

REGISTRATION
NOW OPEN

A SOLDIER'S PLACE: VETERANS AND CIVILIANS SPEAKING ABOUT WAR

"A Soldier's Place" is a free Humanities class at National University that brings together veterans and civilians to reflect upon powerful literature and non-fiction writings that illuminate common patterns of deployment and homecoming. There is no tuition cost and all books are provided free.

Dialogues programs help veterans gain new insight into their military experience by engaging rich humanities resources. Participants receive a program journal with an embossed pen to keep personal reflections on the readings, gain access to study guides, and join a network of supportive individuals who want to reflect deeply about the issues raised by war and its impact on individuals and societies. Veteran discussion leaders from four branches of the military will facilitate discussions.

of participants across five Dialogue programs indicated that the humanities materials helped them better understand their experiences.

96%

For more information and to apply, visit our website: <https://soldiers.place/>

Contact Us

Prof. Lorna Zukas, Program Director
lzukas@nu.edu

Allie Hall, Program Coordinator
ahall3@nu.edu

Phone: (858) 642-8437

— “ —
For forty years, I have been looking for words to describe my experience and I finally found them right here in this ancient book [The Odyssey].

— ” —
Veteran participant

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

This program has been made possible in part by the National Endowment for the Humanities: Exploring the human endeavor. Any views, findings, conclusions, or recommendations expressed in this program do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities.